WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiver as and practical service this Work stands purivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objests in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast scenomy of space, achieving a clearness not previously strained, and dispensing with those vast margins terised Chinese publications. To the illustrate the vast scope of the work following facts are submitted for consideration:-
